Many Americans Killed as Bombs Rip Cafe in Saigon

Five Diners Seen Blasted Through Window Into River

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Two big terrorist explosions ripped through a crowded floating restaurant on the Saigon River almost simultaneously tonight and witnesses said they believed 40 or 50 persons, including many Americans, were killed.

The first police count showed 17 dead and 24 wounded. Officials expected this tally to go higher. Decks of the restaurant, the My Canh, and pavement on the riverside were slick with blood.

All available ambulances were called in to handle the casualties of this incident, possibly the worst in terms of lives lost in South Viet Nam's capital in many years.

Crowded Riverfront The riverfront normally is thronged with strollers seeking cool breezes in the early part of the night. Mothers out with the children were among the casualties.

The explosions cut into the floating restaurant about 8:15 p.m.

One was caused by a powerful shaped charge — possibly an American-made claymore electric mine — planted in the bank of the river. The claymore explodes in the direction it is pointed.

The restaurant, which is moored about 25 feet from the bank, has an entry over a gang-plank leading from the waterfront street. It is patronized mostly by Americans and wealthy Vietnamese.

Second Blast A second blast, which investigators believed was caused by a bomb mounted on a bicycle, went off at a tobacco stall on the bank next to the restaurant.

Investigators assumed they were planted in advance and timed to explode at the peak of the dinner hour on a weekend night. The restaurant was crowded to capacity and its glass walls were crushed under the hail of fragments.

At least one American woman was believed to have been hurled through the windows farthest from the blast into the river. It was not known whether any survived.

The awning-covered gang-plank was gashed and shattered and the dead and wounded were scattered in a wide arc. Last year a bomb was set off across the street from the waterfront and several Vietnamese were killed.

No Arrests Authorities reported no arrests after the bombing and there was no indication any were about to be made. The terrorists were believed to have left the area and escaped before the explosions.

In sheer power, the blast has been exceeded by several others, including the bombing last Christmas Eve of an officer's hotel and the bombing in March of the U.S. Embassy.

Firemen and Winnebago County police observe the aftermath of a two-truck collision in which Earl G. Newcomb, 5011 North Shore Drive, Oshkosh was killed at 4:51 p.m. Thursday at the intersection of U.S. 45 and State 150, three miles west of Neenah.

The pickup truck Newcomb was driving collided with an empty tanker truck driven by Victor L. Lund, 40, route 2, Clintonville, who was not injured. Newcomb's death raised Winnebago County's traffic death toll to eight. (Post-Crescent Photo)

West Berlin Supplies are Under Threat

BERLIN (AP) — The East German Communists threatened today to tie up barge and rail shipments to West Berlin.

The threat to barge and rail shipments was made by Transport Minister Edwin Kramer in a speech to the Communist party Central Committee published by Neues Deutschland, the party paper.

Kramer said permits for barge traffic between West Germany and West Berlin issued by the four occupation powers would not be acceptable after June 30.

This could mean that all barge traffic, averaging between 100 and 200 barges a day, would be stopped on July 1.

Oshkosh Man Dies In 2-Truck Crash

OSHKOSH — An Oshkosh department was called and man was killed at 4:51 p.m. Thursday when the pickup truck he was driving was involved in a collision with an empty tanker truck at the intersection of U.S. 45 and State 150, three miles west of Neenah.

The death of Earl G. Newcomb, 37, 5011 North Shore Drive, raised Winnebago County's death toll to eight. William Stroth, 22, Marshfield, was killed shortly before midnight Thursday when the car he was driving went out of control on a rural Wood County road.

A post-mortem performed this morning by the Winnebago County coroner showed that Newcomb died of a ruptured spleen and severe internal bleeding. He also received fractures to the ribs, left leg and second and third degree burns on his arm, face and upper part of his body.

Damage to the tanker was estimated at $5,000.

CI35 Crashes With Marines After Takeoff

Wreckage Found; All 84 Aboard Presumed Dead

EL TORO Calif. (AP) — An Air Force jet transport plane loaded with Marines headed for Okinawa via Hawaii crashed today shortly after take off from the Marine air base here. A spokesman said all 84 persons aboard were killed.

The CI35 came down in low rolling hills about 4½ miles north of here at about 2:45 a.m. The wreckage was spotted soon after dawn.

A base spokesman said the 72 Marines aboard were from Camp Pendleton, Calif., near San Diego south of here. The plane and presumably the crew of 12 Air Force men aboard were from McGuire Air Force Base, N.J.

Low Clouds There was no indication what went wrong. There were low clouds and light mist in the area at the time. The plane is a military version of the Boeing 707 jet transport.

A base spokesman said today is expected that the Marines on board were on their way to Viet Nam, but this plane was scheduled only for Honolulu.

In Washington, the Defense Department gave Okinawa as the destination. Okinawa is a staging area for movements to Viet Nam.

Wreckage Found El Toro is 40 miles southeast of Los Angeles, just inland from the sea. The plane took off to the north. Planes doing so normally then bank left, away from the low-lying Santa Ana mountains that border the field area. The wreckage was found in the hills almost due north of the strip.

The area is sparsely populated and comprises rolling grass and brushland, with a few

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — action will generate similar attitudes in the rest of the membership.

San Francisco police assigned 500 extra-duty police to shield Johnson and U.N. diplomats from an expected 5,000 demonstrators and pickets. All days off were cancelled for more than 1,800 policemen.

The demonstrators were expected to protest U.S. military action in Viet Nam. Soviet occupation of the so-called captive nations, civil rights and the U.N. itself.

A group, representing the John Birch Society, the United Republicans of California and the California Republican Assembly, picketed a civic reception Thursday night for U.N. delegates. They carried such signs as "Welcome, bankrupt U.N. freeloaders."

Auxiliary Has Full Convention Schedule

Mrs. William Frank Elected President in Morning Session

A full weekend program of the Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary Wisconsin Convention is occupying the time of approximately 500 women in Appleton for the event. The women met for registration at the Conway Hotel Wednesday afternoon and Thursday morning, and then began to keep their appointed schedules.

The opening session began at 9:45 a.m. Thursday at St. Joseph School and the day ended after a memorial service at the First Congregational Church.

Today 25-year members met at 7:15 a.m. for breakfast at St. Joseph School dining room. Credential registration closed at 9:30 a.m. and new officers were elected at the morning session.

Heading the state organization for the coming year will be Mrs. William Frank, Manitowoc. Serving with her will be Mrs. Joseph Dimpfl, Oshkosh, senior vice president; Mrs. Duane Meyer, Waukegan, junior vice president; Mrs. Blanche Mecklenburg, Milwaukee, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. L. G. Morrissey, Madison, chaplain, and Mrs. Arnold Korth, West Bend, conductress.

The Auxiliary and VFW will meet for a joint banquet at 6:45 p.m. today at St. Joseph School. The final business meeting is scheduled Saturday morning. After officer installation, the conclave will adjourn.

Convention programs will continue through the day, however, with the parade scheduled at 2:30 p.m. and the pageant of drums competition at 6 p.m.

Americanism Awards Were presented by state chairman Mrs. Richard Koehler, Kenosha, at the afternoon program Thursday. Miss Debby A. Johnson, Racine, first place winner, and Miss Margaret Mogensen, Tomah, were on hand for the presentation. Above are Mrs. Koehler, Mrs. E. C. Johnson and her daughter, Debby, and Martin Mogensen and his daughter, Margaret.

National President of VFW Auxiliary Tells of Busy Year

After a full day of travel from her own California state convention, Mrs. Arthur Klugow, Tracy, Calif., was encoined in the Conway Hotel, relaxing for a few moments before taking up her duties as national president of the Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary.

It's been a hectic year, Marie Klugow says that since her election last August she's been home only 18 days. Her husband, she notes, has become a most proficient housekeeper.

This is the fifth state convention the busy president has attended this year. In addition she has visited all 50 states, has gone on the Radio Free Europe inspection tour, visited Okinawa, Japan, Taiwan and the Philippines, been in Washington, D. C., four times, and filled a number of other incidental obligations.

After the national convention Aug. 15 to 20 in Chicago, she'll go home, back to her city and her job as principal of Tracy Elementary School. She's dedicated to her profession, she says, and is looking forward to returning to the 800 students in her school.

A Good Year

The auburn-haired president, eager though she is to take up her old "quiet" life of just plain homemaker and teacher, feels that this has been a great year of accomplishment for the VFW Auxiliary, mainly because of all those who have helped her make it so.

The organization nationally has more than 10,000 more members than in December, 1964. The women have raised money for a building to house the national office, and have secured a counseling and guidance department for the 207 boys and girls yearling living at the national VFW home at Eaton Rapids, Mich.

She'll be there for the July 11 dedication. The Cancer Aid and Research program of the Auxiliary, second to none, she says, has already equaled last year's contribution. Almost 700 grants have been given to members suffering from cancer, to help pay their treatment costs. In addition, $10,000 has been given to the Jackson Memorial Laboratory at Bar Harbor, Maine for research. The same amount was given the University of Wisconsin in honor of immediate past president Mrs. William Frank.

Newlyweds To Reside In Texas

MARION — Wedding vows were repeated by Miss Diane Carole Moericke, Milwaukee, and Mark Johnathon Diemer, San Antonio, Texas. The Rev. Frederick Ohlrogge and the Rev. Adolph Diemer, the bridegroom's father, officiated at the double ring ceremony at 2:30 p.m. Sunday at St. John Lutheran Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Moericke. The Rev. and Mrs. Diemer live at route 1, Sheboygan Falls.

Allis, a sister of the bride, assisted as matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Suzanne Diemer and Miss LaVonne Krubsack. Miss Mary Kay Mielke acted as flower girl.

The bridegroom's brother, Joel Diemer, Dubuque, Iowa, was best man. Groomsman were Paul Mardorf and Jerry Moericke. Ushering duties were shared by Thomas and Robert Mielke. The ring bearer was Daniel Moericke.

Guests attended a reception at the home of the bride's parents. The couple attended Wartburg College, Waverly, Iowa. Mrs. Diemer is a teacher in the Milwaukee school system. Her husband is with the Air Force.

The newlyweds will honeymoon in southern Wisconsin and will live in San Antonio where Mr. Diemer is stationed.

Mrs. Kenneth Lippold and Mrs. Teske compose the publicity committee; Mrs. Howard Feavel, Mrs. Gordon Worm and Mrs. Leo Wessing, rehabilitation; Mrs. Robert Hoffman and Mrs. Eugene Hoffman, sick calling, and Mrs. Albert De Bruin, social hour.

The making of tray favors will be in charge of Mrs. Worm, Mrs. Lawrence Spielbauer and Mrs. Breitman will be chairmen of the ways and means kitchen committee. Mrs. Breitman will serve as treasurer of the ways and means committee. Dining room chairman will be Mrs. Glen Bowers, assisted by Mrs. Ben C. Shumek.

Junior Program

The Junior Auxiliary presented the program, "Tribute To The Flag of the Free". Miss Hamlin was presented with a Past President's Pin by Mrs. Staidl.

The Junior Auxiliary social committee composed of Miss Jarlene Kriehn, Miss Judy Brinkman, Miss Christy Kapp, Miss Debra Lynch and Miss Shelley Davis served lunch.

The executive board of the Auxiliary met Thursday evening to plan for the Waukesha Convention July 16, 17 and 18. Delegates to the convention will be Mrs. Simon, Miss Mary Hamlin, Mrs. Lynch, Mrs. Gill, Mrs. Teske, Mrs. Gehrke, Mrs. Lippold, Mrs. Brooks, Mrs. Edward Arndt Jr., Mrs. Kapp and Mrs. Eugene Hoffman. Mrs. Simon extended greetings from the Auxiliary to the VFW State Convention meeting Thursday in Appleton.

Americanism Winners Told At Convention

Americanism Awards, in the form of scholarship funds and silver medals, were presented at the Thursday afternoon session of the VFW Auxiliary state convention. Winners were Debby A. Johnson, Racine; Annabelle Jean Meyer, Mishicot; and Margaret Mogensen, Tomah. All are June high school graduates.

Winners were chosen on the basis of submitted accounts of participation in school and civic activities and a resume on the subject, "In Education Rests The Future of America".

The awards were presented by Mrs. Richard Koehler, Kenosha, state awards chairman.

Miss Johnson's entry will be submitted to national competition to a tossed green salad. The vegetables that fit in well in this way are green peas, snap beans, cauliflower, broccoli and carrots.

State VFW Gives Flag To New School

As almost 500 Wisconsin members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary registered for their state conclave Thursday morning, Mrs. Luvin Fanshaw, Waupun, state patriotic instructor, met with Mayor Clarence Mitchell for a special flag presentation.

The flag, which has flown over the nation's capitol, was following an old tradition, given by U. S. Rep. Clement Zablocki of the fourth district. It is intended for use at the new Einstein Junior High School.

Mrs. Fanshaw stated that, on last July 4, 5,200 new flags were flown over the Capitol, and that 18 extra poles and 100 employees were needed to accomplish the marathon. In making the presentation, the chairman read "I Am the United States", in which the history of the flag, its meaning and its symbolism are stated.

Meaning of Cross of Malta

One of the first ceremonies carried out by the Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary, meeting in state convention here, was the Cross of Malta March. It was enacted by state officers at the convention opened Thursday morning at St. Joseph School.

The Cross of Malta is the emblem of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, and, in modified form, of the Auxiliary. The symbol itself is almost 1,000 years old and was the emblem of the Knights of St. John, a brotherhood of men who fought to free the oppressed and minister to the sick and needy.

The cross was chosen by the VFW because, like the original crusaders, they have pledged themselves to defend human rights in both peace and war. New members of the organization pledge to crusade for the freedom of all and, in the name of comradeship, to administer to the sick and needy.

Each part of the cross has special significance. The eight points symbolize the eight Beatitudes. Superimposed on

The Trapped Generation—5 The Older Woman in Love

BY THELMA C. PURTELL

Tradition and nature combine to play a cruel trick on a woman.

She may look as glamorous as she ever did; she may feel as romantic, yearn as much for love as she did in her 20s. But her husband may have retained the ancient, superstitious uneasiness about women as objects for love once they are beyond the childbearing period. This can mean stark tragedy.

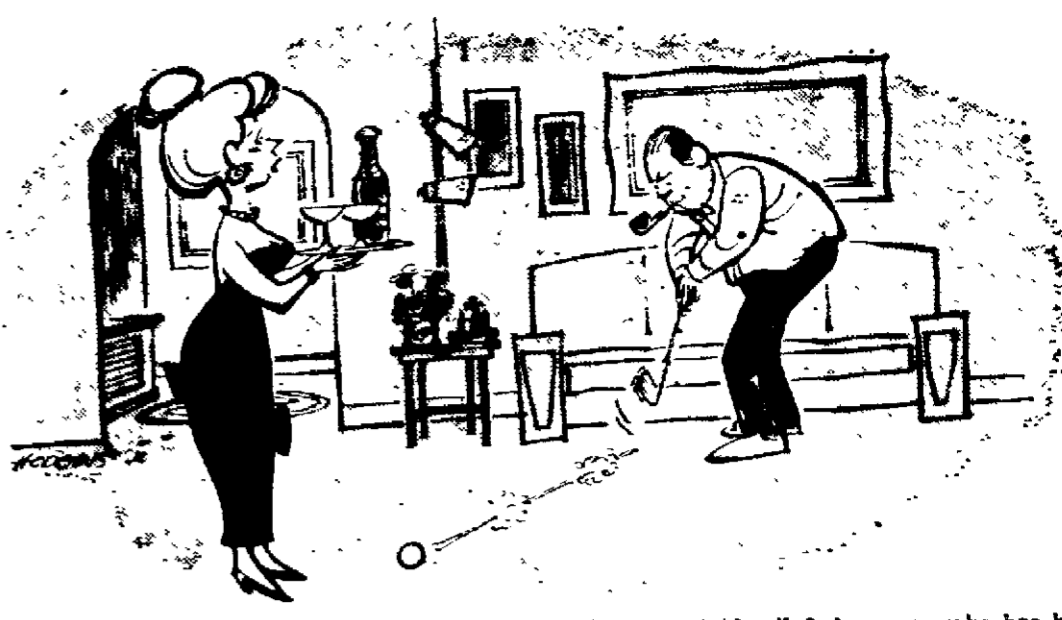

An older man who marries a much younger wife will be the subject for some very telling jokes among his friends, but half of them are frankly envious. A woman in the same situation would never be given the benefit of any possible doubt. It is immediately taken for granted that the young man is a specie of gigolo, that he is looking for gain in some way or other. And there is the old contempt for a woman who feels enough in need of love or sex to allow herself to be used.

Prejudiced Opinion

Everyone agrees in theory that women enjoy a sex life as much as men; in practice opinion is as prejudiced as it was 50 years ago. 500 years ago. The single woman has sex problems but they are nothing compared to the plight of a married woman, living with her husband, still fond of her husband, even in love with him, expected to remain content and continent by his side for 15 or 20 years.

The single woman—unmarried, divorced, widowed—may have to cope with the advances of men, and may have to decide how far she will go or how she will reject them.

Legally and morally, the married woman has no choice whatsoever. If she has been rejected and then meets and seeks out the family doctor or lawyer or pastor. One of these sexually attractive, she is committing adultery, or she has to decide on a divorce; if she tried to stick it out alone, she can suffer the tortures of the damned.

When Love Fades

She is a normal woman and it is assumed that she has come to enjoy intercourse with her husband, to get from it, as he is supposed to, the sense of belonging, of being cherished, which will buoy her through other unpleasant necessities of a marriage. She has been doubly rejected: emotionally, her feelings are wounded; biologically, she has learned to need the release of intercourse as much as her husband.

It is a subject doubly hard to discuss with her husband. If a woman confronts the man with his neglect she runs the risk of making him genuinely impotent with her.

Her most sensible course is to talk it over with a professional advisor. The wife should over- parents have planned for them, hoped for them and wanted them very much.

Why not start a second family? A woman who has her last child at 41 or 42 has the advantage of knowing she will be important and needed until she is in her late 50s. When she and her husband deliberately take this step (not quickly as some device to keep them together, but because they both love and want more children) they have a wonderful thing to share.

Many women say that it keeps them young, that they did not enjoy the first batch nearly as much, that now that they have more time and money, they can do better by the children, the school and their outside interests. Think first, but if this is your forte, both women and men will find themselves a part of a happy, youthful confraternity that spans the country, and is growing everyday.

Contest a Whirl of Exciting Days for Queen, Title Hopefuls

BY JUDY RUSSELL

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

OSHKOSH—Miss Angela Gina Baldi, reigning state queen, has changed her mind about her future career. Originally intending to major in music at Northwestern University, "Angie" will now enroll at the University of Wisconsin to major in education.

However, Miss Wisconsin will continue her music training. At the time she entered the pageant last year, she had had 15 years of piano study, eight of oboe, four of English horn, five of acrobatics and two of modern dance.

Amazing Transformation

It's amazing to see the transformation from curlers, bandanas and rehearsal problems and ways and means of improving the state crowns and formal wear for public appearances of the contestants. After the finals Saturday there will be a public reception for the new Miss Wisconsin and the other girls in the "O" room at the Oshkosh High School-Civic Auditorium. There will be no announcement as to who the 10 semi-finalists are until they are guided from the stage during Saturday evening's show.

Before going to dinner at Radford Hall Saturday the girls will vote for Miss Congeniality.

Local pageant chairmen aren't overlooked during the festivities: they are guests at champagne parties, swimming and boat ride events and receptions. Forums are also held for local chairmen to discuss local pageant problems and ways and means of improving the state and local shows.

Contestants were besieged by autograph-seekers when they appeared in stores during the Miss Wisconsin Civic Celebration. Young and old alike made the rounds with paper and pen. Miss Wisconsin visited each store, autographing small pictures of herself and passing them out to thrilled youngsters.

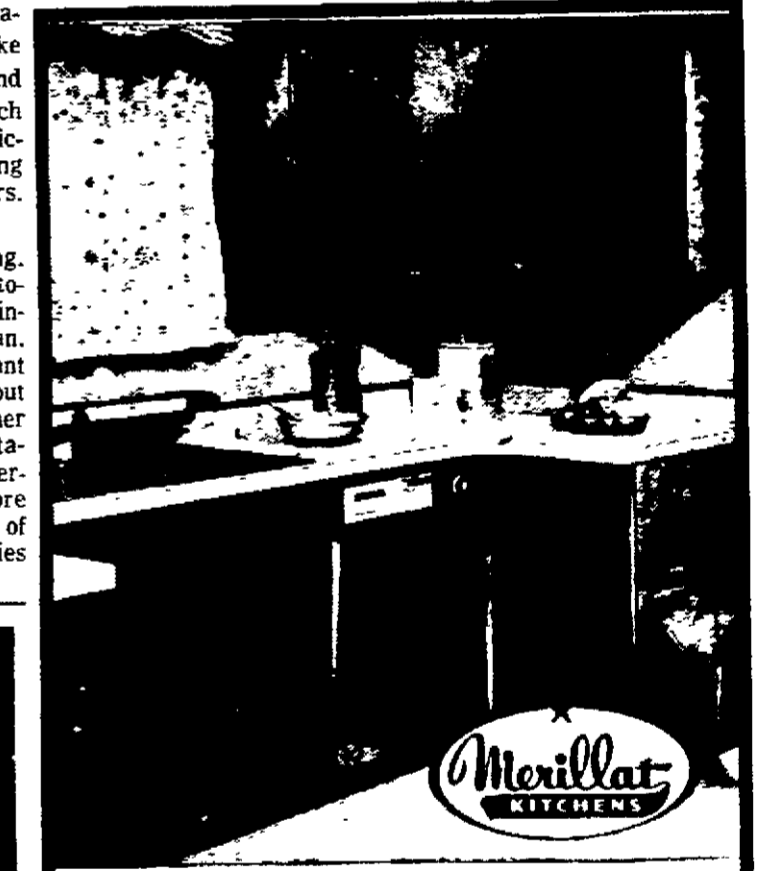

Talent Presentations

Besides singing and dancing, dramatic readings and pantomimes, talent presentations include solos on the piano, organ, flute and saxophone. Pageant officials can't say enough about the work of Angela Baldi in her year as the state's representative. It seems her charming personality smoothed over more than a few "ruffled feathers" of pageant sponsors in cities throughout Wisconsin.

You worked hard to earn $1618*

We worked hard to make sure Opel Kadett is worth every penny.

You put in a lot of hours to earn the money. We want to assure you that we kept it in mind when GM built Opel Kadett. Bucket seats are an example. We don't charge extra. The 46-hp engine is another. It seems to have an aversion to gas pumps and repair shops. Your hard-earned money will bring you a 4-speed floor shift, a rugged all-vinyl interior, a windshield washer, even a steering wheel lock, not to mention a front suspension system that never needs lubrication. Go to your Buick-Opel dealer. (The man who makes money talk.) On the way home, put the money you saved in the bank. Ah, peace of mind, it's wonderful.

Delegates Burst Seams of VFW Hall

Attempt to Find New Location For Expected 1,000 Delegates

Veterans of Foreign Wars, delegates, meeting in the 44th annual state convention in Appleton, literally burst the seams of the meeting hall this morning and efforts are being made today to find a new meeting place.

Credentials committee spokesman said that 490 delegates have registered for the convention as of 10 a.m. today and that several "hundreds" more are expected for the main business meeting Saturday morning.

New Airport Addition Gets Board's Okay

Terminal Expansion At County Facility For Air Wisconsin

Approval was given Thursday night by the Outagamie County Board's executive committee to an addition to the terminal building at the county's new Town of Greenville airport.

The 26 by 24 foot addition will provide ticket counter space and a baggage room for Air Wisconsin, the new commuter airline which is expected to begin service after mid-July between the Fox Cities and Chicago's O'Hare Field.

The addition will cost $5,000. The contractor will be Consolidated Construction Co., Appleton, the firm which put up the original temporary fabricated steel terminal building.

Executive committee approval also was given to a $1,919 bid by Wichmann Furniture Co., Appleton, for furniture for the terminal's passenger waiting room. Wichmann's price includes six sofas and 10 chairs and supply furniture from the store until the new furniture is delivered.

The committee retained Henry Van Straten, county superintendent of schools whose position is being abolished on July 1, for "phasing out" of his office until all responsibilities have been assumed by the Cooperative Educational Service Agency. He will be retained until Oct. 31 on a part-time basis at a cost not to exceed $1,200.

Beginning July 1, Van Straten also will begin the duties as temporary coordinator of the county's education program for handicapped children. He will be paid $3,600 for administering this program until June 30, 1966.

Lawrence Receives 2 Honorable Mentions From Alumni Council

Lawrence University was singled out for honorable mention for two awards by the American Alumni Council this month.

The university was recognized among large private coeducational schools for its sustained performance under the Alumni Giving Incentive Award. The council gave $35,000 in such awards for "distinguished achievement in the development of alumni support."

Lawrence also received honorable mention for its direct mail effort in the past year in the volunteer solicitors category.

Swim Lessons for 4-8 Age Group to Begin

The Young Men's Christian Association of Appleton announced that special swimming instructions for boys and girls ages four to eight will begin at 9 a.m. Monday and Tuesday.

Parents are required to accompany their children.

Interested parents can sign up by calling the YMCA.

Educational Service Agency 8 Approves Bylaws, Budget

Outline Duties of Coordinator, Successor to County School Head

The Cooperative Educational Service Agency 8 Board of Control approved by-laws and adopted a 1965-66 budget of $22,000 Thursday evening.

The by-laws, which include 12 articles, outline the purpose of the agency, describe the powers and duties of the board of control and the coordinator and school boards; informing the superintendent of schools of school personnel of modern control and the coordinator and school programs; interviewing lay down operating rules for the agency.

The purpose of the agency, as stated in the by-laws, is to serve educational needs in a designated area through cooperatively providing special educational services to all teachers, students, school boards, administrators and others who may include such programs as research, special student classes, data collection, processing, inservice programs and liaison between the state and local school districts.

Two State Beauties Take Early Honors

Miss Oshkosh, North Shore Win in Swimsuit, Talent Trials

BY JUDY RUSSELL Post-Crescent Staff Writer

OSHKOSH — The "pageant city's" own shapely representative, Miss Sharon Singstock, 20-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Singstock, 1423 Western St., will compete in the talent and swimsuit competition tonight, while Miss Yochum, a dark-haired beauty from North Shore, will compete in the preliminary honors in swim suit and talent competition Thursday night as the 1965 Miss Wisconsin Pageant.

The seven-week institute, which will end July 31, consists of a sequence in modern literature and expository composition. The literature program will be concerned with the ways in which the sciences—particularly modern psychology—have influenced recent literary form and content. The competition. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Yochum, Bayside.

No Training Miss North Shore delighted the audience with a take-off on Charlie Chaplin type dancing and cockney dialogue to a number entitled, "Ernie Fitch has a Twitch." Backstage, she happily clutching her trophy, she reported that she had no special training.

In tonight's show, Miss Oshkosh will sing "Rock-a-Bye Your Baby with a Dixie Melody." A junior at Wisconsin State University here, she stands 5 feet, 6 and one-half inches, weighs 116 pounds and has blond hair. A sociology major, with a minor in mathematics, Miss Oshkosh plans to become a social worker.

Miss North Shore is 5 feet, 5 and one-half inches tall and weighs 125 pounds. The 18-year-old charmer lives "a hop, skip and a jump" from the Current Miss Wisconsin, Angela Gina Baldi, who represented North Shore in last year's pageant. Two years ago, another North Shore beauty queen, Barbara Bonville, became Miss Wisconsin.

Talent Important Talent is the most important item, as far as points are concerned, in the pageant. It counts for 50 per cent of the points, while swim suit and evening gown competition count 25 per cent each.

Preliminary winners will be chosen again tonight in swim suit and talent competition. Luane Kay Briske, Miss Appleton, will compete in evening gown and swimsuit competition tonight. Miss Appleton gave an excellent presentation of the declamation, "In Rebecca's Room" as her talent selection Thursday night.

A near-capacity crowd turned out to watch Miss America of 1962, Maria Beale Fletcher, Emcee the three-hour show, "Young America's dream." Two surprises in the show were the guest appearance of Miss Illinois, Pat Quilligan, and a folksinging performance by Miss Wisconsin, complete with guitar. She also played the "On Wisconsin Concerto" on piano and received a standing ovation as she paraded down the runway.

A highlight of the show, never before seen in any preliminary pageants, was "The Evening Gown Ballet," featuring Miss Milwaukee of 1964, Joan Filler, Scott Pearson and an ensemble from the Milwaukee Opera Ballet Co.

The second show will begin at 8 p.m. tonight, with the finals starting at 7:30 p.m. Saturday at the Oshkosh High School Civic Auditorium.

salary and $1,020 office rent. The remaining money is set aside for miscellaneous items and expenses.

Kenneth Poppy, agency coordinator, received the approval of the 11-member board to hire a speech correctionist for $6,000 plus travel expenses.

Seventeen school districts are represented in the agency which will officially supplant county superintendents of schools on July 1.

State Park, Recreation Groups Okay Merger

Mail Vote by Members Shows 90 Per Cent Approve Plan; Joint Board Meeting Set

Members of the Wisconsin State Park and Recreation Society and the Wisconsin Recreation Association have voted to merge the two organizations into a single group to be called the Wisconsin Park and Recreation Association.

A mail ballot vote of the approximately 250 members of each organization was taken during June and recent tabulation by the two boards resulted in about a 90 per cent vote for the merger. Presidents of the two groups, Dr. Robert Stern of WPRS, Kenosha, and Charles Drayna, WRA, Oshkosh, have announced a joint board meeting to be held in Milwaukee July 30. Alice K. Huck, Appleton, is publicity chairman for the WPRS and a member of its board.

At the July meeting the two boards will discuss the mechanism of the merger and the

Appleton Gets Tax Check

$107,401 Received As Share of Phone Firm's Payments

A check for $107,401.73 has been received by Appleton as its share of the Wisconsin Telephone Company's state gross revenue tax.

The full payment of $10,441.852.91 was made last month to the Wisconsin Department of Taxation, which in turn sent the check for the local share.

The gross revenue tax, which is based upon local and long distance revenues, is paid to the state in lieu of property taxes, according to R. C. Van Sistine, local manager for the company. Of the total payment, 85 per cent of the tax levied on local service revenues is returned to the local community.

Retained By State

The remaining 15 per cent of the tax on local service, plus the full amount of the tax on long distance service, is retained by the state.

The manager pointed out that the gross revenue payment represents only a portion of the firm's annual tax bill. "Total federal and state taxes for last year's operations came to more than $36 million," he said. "In addition, the company collected $16.4 million in federal excise and state sales taxes from its customers, which it turned over to the respective governments."

Besides the recent tax payment, the community also benefited from payments made to local business firms by Western Electric Company, Van Sistine pointed out. "A total of $175,271 was paid to local merchants for their services and products last year," he said.

Fox Valley Teachers To Attend Institutes, One to be on Faculty

A chemistry teacher at Kaukauna High School, Roy Wentzel, will serve as a faculty member for a summer chemistry institute at Ripon College, running from next Monday to Aug. 13.

Robert E. Lee, faculty member at Shiocton High School and Dale F. Lenz, faculty member at Menasha High School, will attend the physics institute at the same time.

Both institutes, supported by the National Science Foundation, are designed to broaden the preparation of high school chemistry and physics teachers.

Participants will come from California to Vermont.

New Jersey Driver Fined

Motorist Arrested In Oshkosh Loses License for Year

OSHKOSH — Titus W. Fowler, 60, Wayne, N. J., was fined $100 and costs this morning by County Judge James Sittler after he pleaded no contest to a charge of operating a car while under the influence of intoxicants. His driver's license was ordered revoked for a year.

Fowler was arrested by Oshkosh police at 12 15 a.m. today after a minor property damage accident at Merritt Avenue and Hazel Street.

Discrimination Charge Still Faces Official

DETROIT (AP) — Although accounted on all counts of a U.S. civil rights indictment, Mayor Orville L. Hubbard of suburban Dearborn still was faced today with two lawsuits growing out of alleged discrimination.

Both are civil actions. One is in U.S. District Court; the other in a state court.

Spec. 4 Daniel C. Heath, Neenah, right, received a letter of commendation for performance during summer training by Co. C, 291st Engineer Battalion, at Camp McCoy. The citation from Brig. Gen. Lawrence G. Treece

Tosses Grenades From Fox Hole

Neenah Man's Actions In War Games Lauded

An unscheduled brush fire letter from the general added an unexpected touch of realism to a tactical exercise of the 416th Engineer Brigade during the summer encampment at Camp McCoy. Spec. 4 Daniel C. Heath, Neenah, of Co. C, 291st Engineer Battalion, met the challenge and earned a letter of commendation from Brig. Gen. Lawrence G. Treece, commanding officer of the 416th Brigade.

In unemotional military language the commendation stated:

"I wish to commend you on your conduct during the guerrilla action at bridge site No. 3 at 1330 hours on 15 June 1965. At this time Spec. 4 Daniel C. Heath in his foxhole, surrounded by brush fire and besieged by heavy grenade attack from the guerrilla forces, calmly removed from his foxhole at least one hand grenade simulator and one HC smoke grenade. These were armed and shortly thereafter exploded. He then picked up his ammunition and 30 caliber machine gun, removed himself from immediate danger, advanced toward the guerrilla band and proceeded to disperse them."

Fire Accidental

Heath, who lives at 124 Plummer Court, Neenah, was part of a patrol from Co. C assigned to protect a Green Bay unit from attack by infiltrating "guerrillas" while the Green Bay unit constructed a bridge. The fire was accidentally started by the invaders.

The military report of the Heath was burned slightly as he event doesn't mention that he escaped the brush fire nor that the ammunition and machine gun he lugged out of the fox hole weighed about 150 pounds. Military endorsements on the

Guard Leaving Camp McCoy On Saturday

Motorists Urged To Stay Off Convoy Routes in State

CAMP MCCOY (AP) — The State Motor Vehicle Department is urging motorists to avoid unnecessary travel as Wisconsin National Guard convoys roll home from summer encampment Saturday.

The military caravans will begin streaming out of Camp McCoy at 7 a.m. in a 4 1/2-hour exodus which will clog many major highways.

The guardsmen lined up today to collect paychecks totaling $740,000 before leaving for home. The payroll was $100,000 greater than that of 1964 because of the larger personnel strength of the guard's 32nd Infantry Division this year.

Big Appetites

The 6,000 men ate a mountain of food during the military exercises. Guard supply officers reported 61,250 quarts of milk, 42,000 pounds of potatoes, and 21,000 loaves of bread were consumed.

Units from Appleton, Neenah, Manitowish and Marinette will comprise the first convoy. Major arteries to be used are Interstate 90 and 94 southbound and Highway 21 east and west.

Need a part?

Redwood part of a car is a car. But it's even more so when you need a part and don't get it.

If you own a 6- or 8-year-old domestic car and need, say, a door handle or a water pump, you're liable to have quite a problem. Unless you are a good mechanic.

When cars change brands every year, the dealer's inventory keeps every part for every year in stock.

But the VW doesn't change brands every year so Volkswagen dealers don't have nearly the problem.

So far as we're concerned, a door is a door and a door is a door. We can replace a door in 15 minutes for a rear fender in 30 minutes. Above all, we can promise that you'll be able to get any car you need for any year Volkswagen you want.

Just long ago, there were people who wouldn't have any part of a VW at all. Now they get it they want.

Stargell Hits Three Homers in Buc Win

Leads Pirates to 13-3 Victory; St. Louis Belts Cincinnati, 11-4

BY MIKE RATHET Associated Press Sports Writer

Say Hey, look what Willie did. Willie Stargell, that is.

The slugging Pittsburgh outfielder, who takes his glasses off to play ball, hammered Los Angeles pitching for three home runs and a double Thursday night, driving in six runs as the Pirates crushed the National League leading Dodgers 13-3.

Riding a month-long streak that has propelled him into the race for home run leadership, Stargell brought his total for the season to 20 with his latest outburst. Willie Mays of the San Francisco Giants leads the majors with 22.

Stargell, at 21 Mays junior by 10 years, is only in his third full year in the majors. He has given ample evidence of his left-handed power since he entered the Pirate organization in 1959, his eighth victory in the last but his highest major league total was 21 last season.

Stargell has moved within quick range of that over the last month. During a period of 30 games, he has hit at a .354 clip. Bob Uecker each stroked two-hitting his average from a woe-run singles while Tracy Stallard full 194 to a respectable .267 brought his record to 4-2 with while slugging 13 homers and relief help from Don Dennis.

Against the Dodgers, Stargell and in the first and one on in the third against 11-game winner Don Drysdale, struck out in the fourth, then connected for his third homer against reliever John Purdin with two on in the sixth.

He came up in the eighth against Mike Kekich and doubled, shooting a line drive down the left field line that fell two feet short of the stands.

While Stargell was leading a 15-hit attack, St. Louis belted Cincinnati 11-4 with a 12-hit offensive. Philadelphia downed San Francisco 3-1, the Chicago Cubs defeated Milwaukee 3-1 and Houston whipped the New York Mets 4-2.

Stargell, joining Philadelphia's John Callison and Tom Tresh of the New York Yankees as three-homer hitters this season, was joined in homer hitting for the Pirate by Bob Bailey and Jim Pagliarini.

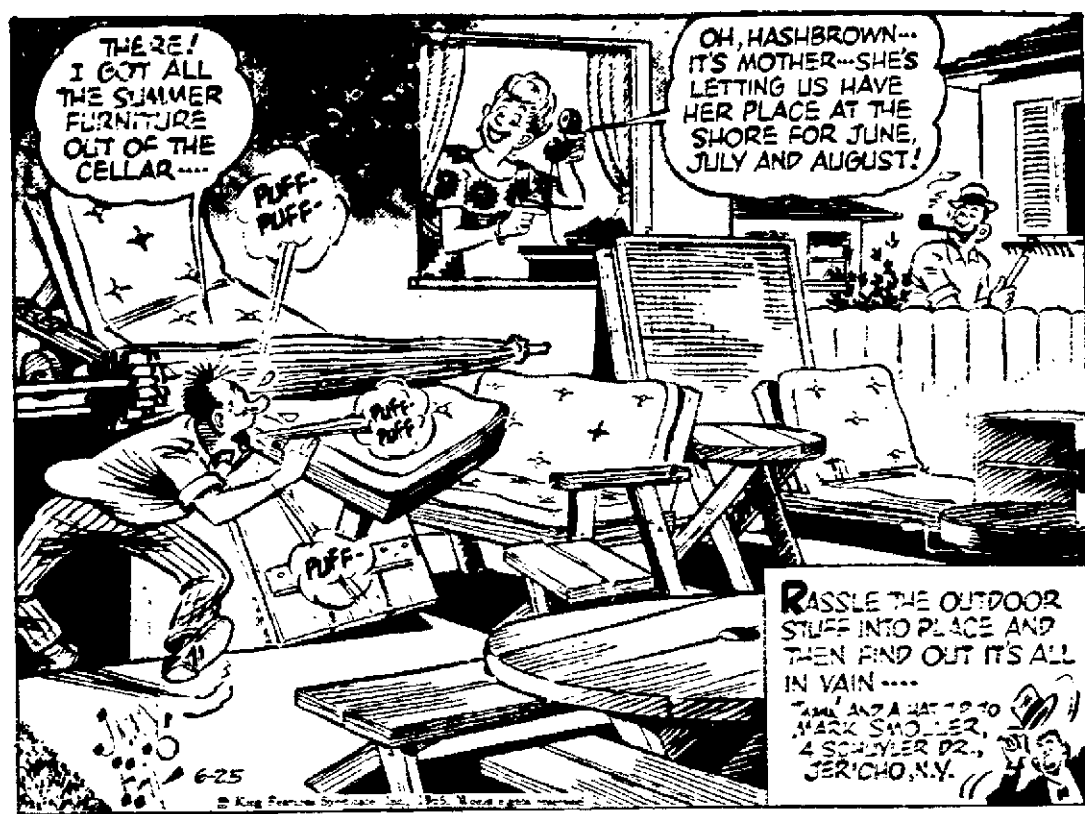

Wes Parker drove in all the Dodger runs with a sacrifice fly and a two-run homer off Don Cardwell, who got the victory for a 5-2 record with a four-hit straight and now is 11-6.

Most of Damage The Cardinals, gaining only their eighth victory in the last 29 games, did most of the damage against Jim O'Toole, who suffered his sixth loss against the Pirates.

Phil Gagliano rapped a three-run homer and Lou Brock and games, he has hit at a .354 clip. Bob Uecker each stroked two-hitting his average from a woe-run singles while Tracy Stallard full 194 to a respectable .267 brought his record to 4-2 with while slugging 13 homers and relief help from Don Dennis.

American Pulls Big Wimbledon Upset

Unranked Allen Fox Defeats No. 3 Seeded Swede in 4 Sets

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) son and is 3-2 against Stolle. But — A husky young American celebrated his new found fame today as a Sigmund Freud of the tennis courts — a man who analyzes his victims before disposing of them.

For Chicago-born Allen Fox, playing in his third Wimbledon Championships, life was a thrill. Wimbledon was still staggered by his Thursday upset of Sweden's third-seeded Jan Erik Lundquist. It was also Fox's 26th birthday.

Fox lost in the first round on both his previous Wimbledon appearances — but he is as canny a player as his name implies and he is also a UCLA psychology student. This was his secret weapon as he took Lundquist apart on court.

Analyses Opponents The Swede, whom everyone said could take the Wimbledon Championship this year, never really got into the game. Fox — having studied his victim closely — played on his weak points and scored an upset rivaling the first Clay-Liston affair in its immediate impact. The set scores were 7-9, 7-5, 6-2, 7-5.

Fox disclaims any ambitions as a psychiatrist but always makes a searching analysis of his opponents "for points which can tell me something on court." He refused to say just what he noticed about Lundquist.

"Can I win here?" How can I say?" he told a newsmen. "But I always feel like I have a chance of winning. Against Lundquist, I felt confident throughout."

Eight ranked in the States. Fox must now be reckoned the dark horse of the tournament — even though his run could end in the next round against fellow American Eugene Scott.

Ralston Advances They have not played each other for years, but Scott is 2-1 up on previous matches.

Dennis Ralston, the U.S. No. 1 and fourth-seeded here, meanwhile pounded out a straight sets victory over Ramanathan Krishnan, five-times Indian champion.

Krishnan is a magnificent performer on his day and the win was a handsome one for the tall Californian, putting him in the round of 16. But he will have to produce something extra if he runs up against the Australian B. Carew in the second round. Marshall Conrad collected two favorites — defending champion 3 Roy Emerson and the No. 2 seeded Fred Stolle.

In the last 18 months, Ralston scored what proved to be the winning run in the eighth when he walked, stole second and came home when an attempted pickoff game backfired and the ball went into the outfield.

Kaukauna loaded the bases with two out in the ninth but failed to score.

Rams Place Crow On Waiver List

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Defensive

halback London Crow was put on waivers Thursday by the Los Angeles Rams.

A spokesman said the National Football League team was overloaded with young defensive backs and wanted to give the 10-year veteran a chance to find a club that could use him more.

Crow, 32, starred at the University of Southern California and then began his professional career with the St. Louis Cardinals.

In 1956, he led the league in pass interceptions with 11 and played in three Pro Bowl games — 1957, 1958 and 1960.

He came to the Rams in 1961 after a brief stint with the New York Giants.

More Profit in Quality, Says Holstein Chief

Elroy Borgwardt Talks at Outagamie Twilight Meeting

FREEDOM — "There is more profit to be gained in building a quality farm operation than in mere bigness," declared Elroy Borgwardt, state president of the Wisconsin Holstein-Friesian Association.

Borgwardt spoke Wednesday at the Outagamie County Holstein Association twilight meeting at the Marvin Krahn farm. This was the first county meeting in the state this year. About 150 persons attended.

Borgwardt is a partner in the 368-acre Sunny Side farm operation at Valders with his brother John.

Breed Programs

He advocated making use of official breed programs such as production testing, and classification plus careful management practices to develop a strong herd.

The Borgwardts maintain 45 milking cows in a herd of 105 registered Holstein cattle. They also have 35 head of beef cattle. The brothers raise most of the feed for the herd.

Top quality breeding stock was another feature of the Borgwardt system. He contended that building quality breed lines has paid off in high butterfat production and future saleable breeding animals.

Checked Monthly

In addition, the cattle are inspected by a veterinarian once a month to check and eradicate early stages of infection or disease. Particular attention is paid to the dairy herd.

He questioned the value of building large farm operations and the limited profit they can offer for the size of investment. In contrast, the Borgwardts

Favorite Foods Revues Scheduled at Chilton, Sherwood for Calumet

CHILTON—Two favorite foods revues are scheduled in Calumet County for 4-H food and nutrition project members, according to Home Economics Agent Joan Prochnow.

The first will be at 1:30 p.m. Tuesday at the high school cafeteria. The second is planned for 7:30 p.m. July 8 at Sacred Heart School in Sherwood.

In addition to the favorite foods revue, members will participate in judging food products and utensils.

Pre-Fair Activities

Food, Dress Revues, Dairy Cattle Judging, Scheduled in Outagamie

Three major pre-fair activities are scheduled in the next two weeks for Outagamie County 4-H project members. Their participation in blue ribbon efforts will comprise a large segment of the 1955 junior fair exhibits.

A district dairy cattle judging day at Seymour High School conference will be at the Outagamie County Fairgrounds at Shiocton High School will be

Eight Classes

Blue ribbon winners from the 4-H favorite foods revue Thursday and the dress revue on July 7 at Shiocton High School will be awarded at the county fair and enter state fair competition.

Cattle for the eight judging classes will be furnished by Hietpas Dairy Farms, route 3, Appleton; Elwyn Staley and Sons, route 1, Seymour; Oscar Miller, route 1, Black Creek; Cyril Letter, route 2, Seymour; Florian Mastey, Nichols, and Albert Bruns, Medina.

In addition to making three foods and nutrition entries at the fair, all girls are eligible to enter a favorite food in the revue. Menu plans were submitted to the county extension office in advance.

The dress revue judging is open to girls enrolled in the clothing project. Girls will model their dresses. They will be judged on style, general appearance and fit. Judy Stellwagen, is in charge of the food and clothing revues.

Ayrshire Picnic Set for Sherwood

SHERWOOD—Some 200 persons are expected to attend the Wisconsin Ayrshire Association meeting and picnic at the Silas Ott farm, route 1, Menasha, July 10.

The all-day event will feature cattle judging at Ott's 75 purebred herd.

Ott also will be host to the all-breed barn meeting at 8 p.m. Spraying with malathion wet-powder will also do the speak on "Keys of Dairy Income."

AFB to Tell Why It Wants Food Chain

Milk Processing Research Also To be Discussed at Greenville

Reasoning behind the American Farm Bureau's startling proposal to purchase a major food store chain and new developments in dairy food research will be explained at a public meeting at 8:30 p.m. Tuesday at the Silver Dome, Greenville.

Ron Campbell, Shawano, one of two key speakers at the event sponsored by the farm organization's Outagamie County unit, said he hopes to bring the audience up to date on progress made on the food chain proposal.

Ohio Views

He will cite the reasons given by the Ohio delegation, which first suggested the plan at a national Farm Bureau convention almost two years ago. Reactions to the plan were mixed but it won widespread support and has been turned over to a national committee for study.

Aside from the Ohio group's views, Campbell will tell what aspects of the proposal the study committee is delving into.

Heavy Grain Feed Results in Low Fat

UW Researchers Find Common Bicarbonate of Soda of Help

Heavy grain feeding to dairy cows is becoming more popular, but along with higher milk production it brings the problem of lower butterfat test.

To learn why butterfat tests drop off, University of Wisconsin dairy scientists have been pushing grain to dairy cows beyond the practical limits of commercial feeding. Neal Jorgensen reported their results at the annual meeting of the American Dairy Science Association at Lexington, Ky.

Lower butterfat test which comes with high concentrate feeding can be partially remedied with common bicarbonate of soda, Jorgensen said. With 3 per cent sodium bicarbonate in the concentrate, butterfat heads up toward normal again. Researchers in other universities have reported this in the last couple years, but the University of Wisconsin researchers are trying to explain how the reaction works and how practical it might be.

Trials Exaggerated
Jorgensen said feeding trials were exaggerated for experimental purposes. They fed a 3:1 grain-hay ratio—30 pounds of pelleted concentrate and 10 pounds of hay. Heavy grain feeders may feed no higher than a 1:1 proportion in a practical situation.

One group of cows got this ration for 8 weeks, another group got the ration with 3 per cent sodium bicarbonate for 8 weeks, and the third got sodium bicarbonate with the 3:1 ration for the last 4 weeks of the feeding trial.

Cows on the 3:1 ration showed a drop in butterfat test to 1.17 per cent. When bicarbonate was fed with the ration for eight weeks, the fat test went to 2.73 per cent. Feeding bicarbonate with the ration for only four weeks brought fat test up to 2.16 per cent.

Lower Intake
The different groups of cows ate about 2 1/3 pounds of feed per 100 pounds body weight—an intake of about 2/3 of a pound lower than on a normal ration. However the feed had a higher portion of concentrate than a normal ration.

Jorgensen explained that cows that are overfed on grain tend to put on body fat rather than make butterfat. For some reason a heavy grain ration creates

Moist Forage Varies With Silo Types

Calumet Agent Notes Handling Methods, Chopper Condition

A tight silo is a prerequisite to storing low moisture forages at 40 per cent moisture, contends Calumet County Agricultural Agent Orrin Re-Meyer. The product is very palatable to Wisconsin cattle. Some people have tried it with conventional silos, he related, which were probably not in good condition and only junk resulted, Meyer said. One dairyman twice had fires in his silo, he noted.

Meyer recommended at least a 50 per cent moisture level when using a conventional silo. The chopper should be set for a quarter inch cut and knives and shear plates should be in good condition, he said.

Tramping the material in the silo also will help. Coning up in the center with periodic leveling is next best, he said. He suggested sealing off the top with medium high moisture material. Running a stream of water into the blower will prevent plugging which happens frequently because of heavy moisture content.

Pakistan to Continue Needing U. S. Wheat

The Agriculture Department's Economic Research Service predicted that Pakistan will continue for several years to need increasing quantities of wheat despite that country's efforts to attain food self-sufficiency.

Fair Entries Due

All 4-H entries for the Outagamie County Fair are due at the extension office in the County courthouse at Appleton by Monday, according to Club Agent Courtney Schwartz.

an acid condition in the stomach which depresses production of the components of butterfat. Bicarbonate of soda neutralizes this acid condition in the stomach and makes it more favorable for normal rumen activity.

Wisconsin dairy scientists aren't recommending that dairymen start feeding bicarbonate of soda to keep fat tests up with heavy grain. But they have learned more about this problem and may come up with a practical solution.

Aide Calls GOP Headquarters More Dangerous Than Battlefield

WALTER R. MEARS
WASHINGTON (AP) — While the nation's two top Democrats led, Republicans escalated an intramural squabble today over the case of the ransacked

GOP aide William Kelly said party chairman C. Bliss first praised him for the case of the ransacked

Bliss said working at Republican headquarters is more dangerous than fighting a war.

Frank J. Kovac, the finance director, said Wednesday that Kelly had fired three other party aides open his locked desk in an interview with a week ago.

Contrary to Standards
Bliss said he demanded and Kelly's resignation because he had taken action which is contrary to standards which I established for my staff.

Bliss wired a different version to members of the Republican National Committee.

President Johnson and Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey told the Republicans about the whole thing.

Bliss checked out my desk before I left. Johnson said a party fund raising dinner was canceled Thursday night, "and I'm sure locked and no one is going to get into it."

Wrong Party
Kelly is the fellow that used to be in the hairpin to get into the "it," said Humphrey. "I hate to say it, but a man with that much ought to be a Democrat."

Bliss said Kelly had been a Democratic aide, looking for lists of Republican donors.

Bliss said he had heard of crime in the streets," he added, "but I never heard of rifling desks in the suites."

Kelly said in his telegram he broke into the desk because he suspected Kovac of spying for Barry Goldwater, who ran against President Johnson last fall.

Part of Search
He said it was part of a "systematic search" of the whole party headquarters.

Kelly said the search party found a missing list of $1,000 party contributors and some Goldwater campaign films that had vanished. The former chief administrative assistant at GOP headquarters said he promptly reported to Bliss.

He professed satisfaction with my work and the locating of the list and of the film copies," said Kelly.

Furthermore, Kelly denied he was fired.

"When the adverse publicity started to flow," he said, "the chairman weakened in his support of me and it was apparent that I was to be sacrificed."

"I submitted my resignation," he said. "A few minutes later, the chairman issued a statement saying in effect that I had been fired."

Transfer of Traffic Patrol Bill Attacked at Hearing

MADISON (AP) — Chances of times do?" questioned Assemblyman Richard Lynch, D-Milwaukee, as he questioned the bill transferring county traffic officers to the state waukees.

Later, Assemblyman Willis Hutnik, R-Ladysmith, and Elmer Nitschke, R-Beaver Dam, said the working relations between county sheriffs and the state patrol in their area caused no problems.

The bill provides that no county patrolmen would lose their jobs under the transfer, they would serve in the same area as at present, and they would receive no cuts in salary or benefits.

Challenge Bill
Committee members immediately challenged Nikolay and his bill and launched a barrage of questions.

Assemblyman Jerome Blaska, D-Sun Prairie, and committee chairman, said he was worried about the fiscal note on the bill.

"You're on the compromise committee for getting a budget," he said. "Have you appropriated the $3,225,000 necessary to finance this bill?"

"Do you think you can watch roads safe instead of building roads safe?" Assemblyman Kenneth Kunde, D-Sheboygan, asked.

Governor Won't Give Name

Finance Compromise Might Face Danger in Democratic Committee

MADISON (AP) — A compromise proposal to meet Wisconsin's financial problem bumps into the Legislature's Joint Finance Committee today where the Democratic floor leader of an embittered Democratic majority could stop its progress before it starts.

Republican Gov. Warren P. Knowles wouldn't be budged. "This is a legislative compromise," he said, "and I'm not going to put my name on it."

Test Bill
The governor said he would "direct" the Bureau of Management to put the bill in printable form for introduction by the Joint Finance Committee. And he added that he thought it should be tested first in the Assembly where Democrats rule 52-48.

Democratic murmurs were very audible. "If that's the way he wants to play it, a bill will never be introduced," a Democratic leader commented.

Democratic Gov. John W. Reynolds consented to have his name attached to the Legislature's 1963 budget-tax compromise. It included sales tax extensions and many members of his party still contend Reynolds' endorsement caused his defeat for re-election.

Sturdier Support
The committee reshaped the tax section of the current compromise Thursday afternoon and it gained somewhat sturdier support. The vote was 11-5. The tally on the original proposal was 9-7.

The last-minute changes eliminated an increase in corporate income taxes, inserted revised revenue estimates and set the total amount of new revenue that would be raised at $105.2 million.

Most of the money would come from an income tax increase totaling $83.6 million. The hike would be retroactive to Jan. 1 but all the funds would be applied to balancing a budget of $812.1 million for the biennium beginning July 1.

Wildcat Truck Strike Begins To Break Up

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The five-day wildcat strike of Teamsters Union drivers began breaking up today as chain-store food trucks, driven by Local 107 members threatened with loss of their jobs, delivered tons of fresh fruit, vegetables, fish and meat.

In the first hours after dawn more than 100 trucks of Food Fair, Acme, A&P and Penn Fruit left warehouses for supply-exhausted stores in the Greater Philadelphia area.

The drivers of Local 107, which had called the unauthorized "holiday" Monday in defiance of national Teamsters leaders, reported for work after receiving warning telegrams from their chain-store employers that they will be "considered to have quit" if they didn't come in this morning.

Most Returned
Most of the food truck drivers work during the evening hours, but a Food Fair spokesman said "Most of those who are supposed to be on duty at 6 a.m. were there today."

Police followed the trucks to prevent any violence or attempts by those still striking from halting the shipments.

Printers Ordered To Return to Work At Cape Kennedy

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Striking printers whose picket lines stopped much of the work at the nation's moonport Thursday were told to return to work today or lose their jobs.

Local 780 of the International Alliance of Theatrical and Stage Employees, AFL-CIO, were involved in a wage dispute with McGregor and Werner, Inc. The firm does photo and printing work for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

The strike was not sanctioned by the international union and not all local members supported it. About half the 5,000 building trades workers involved in other projects stayed off their jobs.

Present wage scales for the printers range from $1.80 to $2.70 hourly.

Leftist Atheist Thinks He Has Wrong Name

GEISENKIRCHEN, Germany (AP) — Hans Joachim Kaufmann, a professed atheist and leftist, asked the state government for permission to change his name.

Explaining his petition, he noted that Hans was derived from John the Baptist, Joachim meant "chosen by God" and Kaufmann meant "merchant," a capitalist term.

He said he preferred the name Detlev — "the man from the people" — Frieden — "peace." When officials rejected his petition, he sued the government in the administrative court.

The judges ruled Thursday that Kaufmann had no case because "names are not meant to express an ideology."

Short Circuit Blamed For Fire in Sheboygan

SHEBOYGAN (AP) — Fire gutted the interior of Everett's Lodge, a combination restaurant and tavern in downtown Sheboygan, this morning. Fire Chief Rod Beyerstedt estimated the damage at $18,000.

Occupants of several apartments on the second floor were forced to flee when smoke filled their living quarters. No one was injured.

The fire chief said a short circuit in an electrical appliance was the apparent cause of the

Constitutional Change Easing Ban on Lotteries Signed by Governor

Entry Into Contests When No Purchase Is Necessary Now Legal

MADISON (AP) — Gov. Warren P. Knowles signed into law Thursday a bill implementing the voter-approved constitutional amendment relaxing Wisconsin's ban on lotteries.

Change the name of the Wisconsin Real Estate Brokers Board to Wisconsin Real Estate Commission.

Repeal the authority of a county board to charge back to a municipality its share of old age assistance grants.

Grant partially submerged land in Lake Michigan to the city of Racine for public docks, highways, recreation purposes and for future extension of the city sewage treatment plant.

Other new laws among the 18 signed by Knowles will:

Authorize the Wisconsin Conservation Commission to establish a uniform waterways marking system throughout the state. The system will be mandatory for all municipalities and individuals after July 1, 1968.

Authorize the Motor Vehicle Commission to adopt and enforce safety rules regarding design, construction, inspection and operation of public and private school buses.

AMA Decides No Boycott On Medicare

NEW YORK (AP) — The American Medical Association has decided not to urge doctors to boycott medicare, and AMA leaders have restated their willingness to discuss the program with President Johnson.

But the 234-member House of Delegates, policy-making body of the AMA, rejected a resolution "petitioning" Johnson for a conference on the administration bill that appears near final congressional approval.

Any conference with Johnson apparently would be attended by eight AMA members, including the president, Dr. James Z. Appel of Lancaster, Pa.

The allusion in the resolution to "restating" and offer to discuss the plan was to a letter, which was sent to Johnson when he succeeded the late President John F. Kennedy.

At the final session of the annual AMA convention, the House did not approve any of the nine resolutions calling on doctors to boycott medicare.

Better 'n Pulling in A Muskie on a Setline

NAMU, B.C. (AP) — William Lechko, a commercial fisherman, put out his gillnet and came up with a catch of two killer whales in the net when it caught on a rock Wednesday.

One whale is about 20 feet long, the other half that size.

Dr. Murray Newman, curator of the Aquarium in Vancouver, B.C., flew here Thursday and said the whales looked "very beautiful" but weren't eating.

Newman said he was interested in obtaining the whales for his aquarium but feared the cost might be too much.

Advice Offered on Selecting Fair Produce

BY COURTNEY SCHWERTZ
Outagamie County 4-H Club Agent

With the county fair approaching, 4-H members should keep some things in mind for their produce exhibits.

The biggest cucumber in the patch often catches the young exhibitor's eye when he is selecting vegetable specimens to show. The biggest may not be the best when the judge makes the final placing.

Select specimens that are slightly above average in size. It is more important to select vegetables that are true to variety in shape, size and color. A uniform selection is important. All vegetables in the arrangement should look the same.

Timing Important
Harvest vegetables as near fair time as possible and keep them in a cool, moist place until time to show them. You should carefully wash and dry tubers securely with red or green string.

Remove loose outer leaves from cabbage and Chinese cabbage and cut stem and leaf bases squarely and neatly. Husk on, remove the older, outer sweet corn, remove silks and leaves and trim the roots and trim the stem end. Do not remove the tip of the ear.

These banks, called production credit associations, are a basic unit of a farm credit system under which more than half a million farmers obtain most or all their credit needs. The associations operate under the supervision of the Federal Farm Credit Administration.

Amherst Student Wins $500 ADA Scholarship Grant

AMHERST — Dan Bacon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Bacon, was the winner of the $500 scholarship to attend the University of Wisconsin. It was given by the American Dairy Association.

Bacon, an honor student who graduated from Amherst High School last month, will major in animal husbandry at the university. The scholarship award requirements were based on citizenship, character, scholarship, work in 4-H clubs or Future Farmers of America.

The credit associations have a total farmer membership of 538,000. Last year 361,000 members obtained loans.

When the credit associations were started in the 1930s, capital stock was provided by the government. All of the government investment but $40,000 has been paid off. The present capital stock owned by farmers totals $255 million. The associations have accumulated earnings—held as reserves—of $178 million. The government expects capital requirements of farmers to double within 10 years.

Water Systems
The Agriculture Department has announced it had stepped up lending activity under a program designed to help small rural communities develop water systems.

The agency made 79 loans for such systems during April and May, and has made 751 since the program began in 1961. The April-May loans totaled $9,575,000 and will provide running water for about 45,000 persons in 20 states.

Mississippi led the April-May loans with 12, followed by Texas 11, Kansas and Tennessee 7 each, Colorado and Missouri 5 each, and Illinois, Louisiana and North Carolina 3 each.

Soybean Association Is Concerned By Low-Quality of Overseas Shipments

Product Refused at Foreign Ports Contained Jimsonwood Seeds

BY OVID A. MARTIN
WASHINGTON (AP) — The American Soybean Association, a trade organization representing growers, processors and exporters, says a few growers threaten to spoil overseas markets by shipping low-quality beans. The association said the grower can remove seeds and other foreign material with a recleaner on his combine. In addition, the elevator operator can clean beans before shipping them.

In its monthly publication, the association said a number of shipments have been turned back at foreign ports because they contained jimsonweed seed.

In some countries, jimsonweed seed is regarded as poisonous to livestock, although some tests in this country do not bear this out. A major outlet for soybeans is livestock feed.

Spoil Markets

"Our image (the U.S. soybean producer) cannot long stand the shipment of lots of beans containing this amount of any weed seed," the association said. "Why do we insist on spoiling our markets?" The association said the grower can remove seeds and other foreign material with a recleaner on his combine. In addition, the elevator operator can clean beans before shipping them.

There is a possibility, the association said, that this year's crop may reach 850 million bushels, or around 150 million more than last year's record crop. If such a crop is produced, the industry cannot afford the luxury of bad shipments, the association said.

Soybean Reports

The Agriculture Department is changing dates for issuing two reports on supplies of soybeans to provide growers and the trade a more accurate ac-stocks held off farms and the counting of the use of this crop. total of all stocks in this country. The year-end report on stocks try—also issued heretofore in held by growers, heretofore is—October—will be released Sept. 23. The new reports will give estimates of the respective stocks as of Sept. 1. Previously, the date was Oct. 1. Earlier reports, officials said, should give sellers and buyers a better picture of the over-all supply situation at the start of a new harvest season.

and will give what little information has been divulged by the group.

Campbell said the committee has been "tight lipped" about its work and is not expected to give a full report until the next national convention.

Russell O'Harrow, Oconto, district director, will report on the newest methods of milk processing.

Milk Concentrate

One certain to attract attention is the three-in-one milk concentrate. It is achieved by extracting the water from milk and reducing its volume by two-thirds. The remaining one-third retains all of the original quantity's nutritional values and can be restored to conventional consistency by adding water.

Advantages are reduced storage space and a resistance to souring during prolonged periods in unrefrigerated areas.

Another project is the new fat content butter recently developed by the University of Wisconsin.

Low Egg Prices Cause Hatchery Industry to Produce Fewer Layers

Relatively low egg prices have influenced the hatchery industry to produce 14 per cent chicks for replacement in laying flocks during the first five months of this year. Production totaled 275 million, compared with 315 million in the five period last year.

Biggest declines were in the Northeast, Midwest and West. There was little change in the south central states.

Production of broiler type chicks was up 4 per cent, totaling 1,055 million, compared with 1,049 million a year earlier.

Latest reports show that usage in 1963 totaled 1,238,000 tons compared with 25,259 in 1947. The department said the liquid nitrogens tend to have a higher nitrogen content and to cost less per pound of nitrogen supplied the soil than conventional solid fertilizers.

Disadvantages include the fact that liquids are corrosive and require special application equipment and storage containers.

New London FFA 1965 Pig Production State Degrees Decline to Continue

NEW LONDON—Two Future Farmer of America (FFA) chapter members here were among 289 state members to receive the Wisconsin Farmer Degree at the state convention in Green Lake last week.

Receiving the award were Dennis Gellow and Alan Duch. The award is given to a maximum of one per cent of the total members in the state on the basis of FFA projects, profit taken from them, citizenship and scholastic ability.

Local convention delegates were Tom Spreeman and Jim Egan, next year's president and vice-president. They were accompanied to the meeting by Donovan Hohman, agriculture instructor.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pig production during the 1965 spring season declined 10 per cent from a year earlier under the impact of last year's relatively low hog prices.

Reporting this Tuesday, the Agriculture Department said a further decline of 8 per cent in the fall season crop below that of a year earlier is expected. This prospective retrenchment in pig production — and in future supplies of pork — comes at a time when hog prices are riding a favorable crest. Farmers received an average

The spring crop-estimated at 43,227,000 head compared with 47,512,000 for last year's spring crop.

The upcoming fall crop — which will go to a slaughter market during the late winter, spring and early summer next year — was forecast at 37,500,000 compared with 40,622,000 for last year's fall crop.

Thus the total 1965 pig production would be 80,727,000 compared with 88,534,000 last year and 95,022,000 in 1963.

The department reported that there were 42,460,000 pigs and pigs of all ages on farms in the 10 major midwestern corn belt states, down 11 per cent 47,668,000 a year earlier.

The pig crops by major producing states for the 1964 and 1965 season, respectively, included

Indiana 3,736,000 and 3,259,000; Illinois 6,582,000 and 5,795,000; Michigan 544,000 and 433,000; Wisconsin 1,825,000 and 1,623,000; Iowa 1,391,000 and 1,500,000; Missouri 2,367,000 and 2,594,000.

Expect Feed Grain Plan Extension

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department is expected to extend its emergency feed grain program soon to most of the 200 drought and flood-plagued counties in 13 states. Under the program, surplus government grain is sold to distressed livestock farmers at reduced prices.

The period for present emergency designations ends June 30. Officials said they are studying applications of many of these counties for extension at least until after fall harvest. Need for low cost feed was said with 35 million bushels of surplus grain—mostly corn—had been made available to distressed farmers during the 11-month period ending May 31. Wisconsin sales topped all states at 12.5 million bushels of grain. New York state was next with 8.5 million bushels.

Overnight Stay Rules Are Revised

The Outagamie 4-H Leaders Association has ruled that all 4-H members staying overnight at the county fairground at Seymour during the fair must reside in the dormitory prepared for them, according to Club Agent Courtney Schwartz.

No boys will be allowed to sleep in the barns, in trucks, or chopper boxes. Exhibitors found violating this rule will be subject to loss of all premiums, said Schwartz.

Some Exhibitors staying in boarding houses will not be allowed to loiter on the fairgrounds after the dormitory curfew hour. Parents of exhibitors found in violation of these rules will be notified and they will be expected to come and get the exhibitor, he explained.

There are 30 beds available. These will be allotted on the basis that each club exhibiting livestock should have at least one representative staying if they care to. Additional beds will be prorated on the basis of number of animals per club, if more applications are made than the number of beds available.

All exhibitors staying in the dormitory must have an application from the extension office signed and brought to the fairgrounds, Schwartz said.

John Ehm, Member of the Woodlawn 4-H Club near Seymour, will represent Outagamie County in the Wisconsin 4-H Tractor Operator's Contest. Ehm won the right after finishing first in

Farm Investment to Reach $75,000

The present average level of investment per farm will expand to well over $75,000 in a few short years, said R. W. Engle, manager of marketing for the farm equipment division of Allis-Chalmers Manufacturing Co., addressing the national conference of the American Marketing Association in New York.

The farmer must expand his investment, Engle said, to assure his survival and ultimately the survival of the country's growing population.

"With a population increase of 30 million predicted by 1975, we will have to raise and produce more food and fiber. To do this will call for further investment of capital.

The farmer is a good risk in general. He has a relatively small debt content in his total balance sheet, something like 10 or 15 per cent on assets of $230 billion. He is learning the wise use of credit as a production tool and will be more willing to use this important tool in the future.

"We will see an increasing use of longer terms on machinery, particularly in light of the increasing size of individual unit investments."

"Management must be willing to study, analyze, manage and act on its entire distribution system, not just disconnected pieces of it.

"Whole farms will be renovated, re-modeled, re-styled, re-arranged to fit into a completely unitized system, dependent on the type of operation, be it cattle feeding, cash crops, dairying or cotton." The farm equipment retailer will have to be a better businessman to meet the requirements of the emerging business-

New Uses for Whey Being Considered

UW Researchers Study Ways By-Product Could Become Food

Wisconsin, the leading cheese-producing state, also produces a highly nutritious product with 7 billion pounds of whey every year, and it costs money to dispose of this. Whey is a by-product of cheesemaking. Besides, it is a nutritious product and could be put to use to help feed a hungry world.

This is the problem of research being conducted at the University of Wisconsin by C.H. Amundson, J. C. Garver and M. Metwally, dairy foods researchers. The researchers hope they can make whey into a useful feed for animals and man. Traditionally, whey was disposed of by giving it back to farmers to feed their hogs.

Some whey is still used this way, but cheese factories also dump it on the land or dispose of it in some other way. About 17 per cent of the whey that is produced is dried and goes into animal feed. Disposal costs money and doesn't make the best use of this product.

The university scientists hope to find ways to make whey into a highly nutritious product with the equipment they have available. They have found new methods of processing large amounts of whey and are also using whey as a medium in which to grow yeast on a large scale. The product of yeast and whey is a highly nutritious protein and vitamin feed.

Recently a pilot plant at the University produced 1,000 pounds of this high protein product from whey which is being tested as a high protein feed. Researchers are using dogs and mink as test animals, but they hope to use it as a feed for hungry people.

They are testing out yeast whey mixtures of various compositions. The protein content ranges from 5 to 20 per cent for dogs to 25 to 30 per cent for mink. When tests are completed, the scientists will know whether yeast-whey can be used as a sole or partial protein source for animals and people.

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — The Viet Cong has executed a U.S. Army sergeant in the execution of a U.S. government official, announced today. The execution was the same fate as the execution of a U.S. Army sergeant in the execution of a U.S. government official.

This is obvious act of murder if it is confirmed," the U.S. government said after hearing the report of the execution.

On the battle front, reports of more Americans missing over the past 24 hours were missing and wounded.

Captured U.S. Army sergeant Bennett, son of Bennett of Perryville, captured Dec. 29 of the Binh Gia offensive, estimated 200 South lives.

Bennett was taken by a 33rd ranger battalion he was attached to with the American team, was attempting to capture Binh Gia from the Viet Cong. Another American, Charles E. Crafts, was also captured.

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — Premier Ky threw a brick at a Viet Cong newspaper when he learned all 36 of Saigon's newspapers were closed on July 1.

For sheer political impact, the new military action Thursday was even under President Diem's dictatorship.

Each newspaper is the organ of a political group. Publishers are also leaders.

The Roman Catholics, Buddhists, the Cao Dai, the Hoa Haos and other groups have their own newspapers.

Many have been closed since Diem's 1963. The Saigon government has changed five times in the past 10 years. The bulk of the newspapers were closed each government.

This was probably a factor in Ky's decision. By closing the press for one month, until it was reorganized along with the government, he avoids the risk of a coup or any faction.

While the government is licensed 36 newspapers, only 10 are published.

Aphids Spotted in Waupaca County

Insects Cause Deterioration of Oat Plants; Need Cool Temperatures

WAUPACA — Grain stalks the juice from the oat aphid, according to Waupaca County Agricultural Agent Joe Walker. The aphids have been spotted in oat fields since yellowing and eventual injury to the alfalfa seedlings, he said. The aphids are causing the alfalfa seedlings to yellow and die.

The adult female insect multiplies rapidly in warm, dry weather and fields should be periodically checked, said Walker. Cool weather and rain-fall reduces their numbers and perks up the oat plants, he explained.

The grain aphid, said Walker, control material and an insect-seeding immediately after harvest to kill weeds and insects, he advised. "Grant Sorenson, Town of Waupaca, had a new seeding that was a wetting reached 12 inches. Given good weather, a cutting like this could be taken before Sept. 1," Walker said.

The September alfalfa harvest rule has been reaffirmed. Broadleaf weed control can be effected by using one-fourth of a pound of 2-4, D Amine or Town of Helvetia. It was green the MOPA per acre. It amounts to chopped last September, resulting in a one-half pint per acre of a four-ounce heavy alfalfa kill and a pound gallon mixture.

"Keep in mind," Walker cautioned, "that MOPA is less like a weed than a plant to repair crowns and roots. It is more expensive and isn't any systems for future growth. They here to add the new branch to the alfalfa," he said, don't store or replenish root. The best time for spraying systems until the plants are out. If you do spray, plan to tenth bloom is recommended. Under the grain is before it reaches about eight inches high. Under 14 inches or after it had headed a normal season cutting at one-half inch of stubble and new he said.

Sherwood Firm Adds Blender

Fertilizer Facilities Added to Feed, Seed Business of Elevator

SHERWOOD — Expansion of the Sherwood Elevator Co.'s fertilizer blending business has been completed.

The firm, owned by James Dhein and Kenneth Kress, recently purchased the former Lieber Lumber Co. yard here to add the new branch to its feed and seed business.

A new 60 by 32 foot building was constructed for bagged and bulk fertilizer. Two 20,000-gallon capacity tanks for nitrogen liquor ammonia liquid fertilizer were leased.

Included in the improvements are two dry spreaders and two liquid applicators.

Dhein and Kress purchased the elevator business in 1951 from West Seidel. In 1952, they purchased an adjacent cheese warehouse from Paul Chees-CO for additional storage. In 1953 and 1954 a 200-ton capacity seed bulk storage bin was completed.

VFW, Auxiliary Given Welcome to City of Appleton

Mitchell Invites State Delegates To See Town, Enjoy Its Progress

Appleton Mayor Clarence Mitchell and Police Chief E. O. Wolff Thursday officially welcomed about 130 delegates to the 3-day state convention of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and Auxiliary.

Opening ceremonies were held at the Harvey Pierre Post 2778. The Auxiliary is gathering at St. Joseph School hall.

Mayor Mitchell invited the delegates to look over town over, during the three-day visit and "enjoy with us the progress we have made in the last 10 years."

Expect 300 Delegates

The official welcomes made up the morning's business for the convention which got underway Wednesday night and will continue through Saturday. Registrations are still being taken and VFW officials predict 300 delegates.

Chief Wolff offered the service.

2 Cars Collide; $100 Damage

NEW LONDON — A two-car collision at 6:45 a.m. Thursday on U. S. 45 in front of Murphy Concrete Products caused more than $100 damage.

City police said a car driven by Tennes A. Tulpan, 16, route 1, Hawkins, was attempting to pass a vehicle driven by Edward V. Ostermeier, 81, 503 W. Spring St., when it went out of control and struck the Ostermeier car in the left side. The Tulpan car continued to head south, but the Ostermeier car was spun about in the roadway before stopping.

The left side of Ostermeier's car was extensively damaged.

Airplanes to Patrol County's Highways

First Flight Demonstrates Method Of Air Arrest to Outagamie Patrol

An airplane making lazy circles in the sky high over U.S. 41 late Wednesday afternoon was a warning to motorists that airborne traffic patrol in Outagamie County has become a reality.

The initial flight of state police who will patrol and make arrests of law violators while flying 1,000 feet above the highway, was made from the last year in anticipation of the new Outagamie County airport expansion north into Wednesday afternoon.

The flight was for the benefit of county law enforcement personnel as an orientation of Dist. Atty. Nick F. Schafer, the patrol's two-year-old flight County Judge Gustave Keller, patrol program. No arrests were made Wednesday.

Successful Elsewhere

The program has been tried successfully in southern counties, and has been programmed for use in Outagamie County. This year, with the approval of the county officials who must prosecute and try the cases, the program will be extended into Outagamie County.

Capt. John Sterba, commanding officer of the Third District State Patrol Headquarters in Fond du Lac, briefed officials on the program. The plane was flown by State Patrol Pilot William Plendl of Madison.

Two planes are currently being flown by the patrol along the highway. A chart which the pilot carries will determine how fast the car was going between the markings.

The pilot will then contact a patrolman on the ground and describe the car and the position of the car from the

Miss Oshkosh, North Shore Win in Swimsuit, Talent Trials

BY JUDY RUSSELL
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

OSHKOSH — The "pageant city's" own shapely representative, Miss Sharon Singstock, and Nancy Yochum, a dark-haired beauty from North Shore, walked off with preliminary honors in swim suit and talent competition Thursday night as the 1965 Miss Wisconsin Pageant got underway.

Miss Oshkosh, 20-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Singstock, 1423 Western St., will compete in the talent category tonight, while Miss North Shore takes part in evening gown and swim suit competition. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Yochum, Bayside.

No Training

Miss North Shore delighted the audience with a take-off on Charlie Chaplin type dancing and cockney dialogue to a number entitled, "Ernie Fitch has a Twitch." Backstage, happily clutching her trophy, she reported that she has had no special training.

In tonight's show, Miss Oshkosh will sing "Rock-a-Bye Your Baby with a Dixie Melody." A junior at Wisconsin State University here, she stands 5 feet, 6 and one-half inches, weighs 116 pounds and has blond hair. A "Concern" will be the sermon of sociology major, with a minor in the Rev. John A. Sizemore at 8:30 a.m. Sunday services at plans to become a social worker.

Richter, a teacher in an Appleton junior high school, was a staff sergeant on temporary duty at Hickham Field when the attack came. He recalled that he didn't know for several hours who was attacking.

"Just Watched"

"There wasn't anything I could do," he said, "so I sat on a runway and just watched."

Richter said Wednesday's reunion of Pearl Harbor veterans was the first he had ever attended. Following the war he declined to take part in any veteran affairs or gatherings. He said his wife encouraged him to attend Wednesday's special reunion.

New Airport Addition Gets Board's Okay

Terminal Expansion At County Facility For Air Wisconsin

Approval was given Thursday night by the Outagamie County Board's executive committee to an addition to the terminal building at the county's new Town of Greenville airport.

The 26 by 24 foot addition will provide ticket counter space and a baggage room for Air Wisconsin, the new commuter airline which is expected to begin service after mid-July between the Fox Cities and Chicago's O'Hare Field.

The addition will cost $5,000. The contractor will be Consolidated Construction Co., Appleton, the firm which put up the original temporary fabricated steel terminal building.

Executive committee approval also was given to a $1,919 bid by Wichmann Furniture Co., Appleton, for furniture for the terminal's passenger waiting room. Wichmann's price includes six sofas and 10 chairs and supply furniture from the store until the new furniture is delivered.

The committee retained Henry Van Straten, county superintendent of schools whose position is being abolished on July 1, for "phasing out" of his office until all responsibilities have been assumed by the Cooperative Educational Service Agency. He will be retained until Oct. 31 on a part-time basis at a cost not to exceed $1,200.

Beginning July 1, Van Straten also will begin the duties as temporary coordinator of the county's education program for handicapped children. He will be paid $5,000 for administering this program until June 30, 1966.

Emanuel Lutheran Church will hold Sunday services at 7:30, 9 and 10:30 a.m. Morning devotionals of "Goodwill Gasoline Precious Blood" Church prices and the establish will have Sunday masses at 6, 8, 10 and 12 noon.

Dealers Favor State Beauties Bill Outlawing Trade Stamps

Delegates at the closing session of the Retail Gasoline Dealers of Wisconsin Association convention in Appleton Wednesday adopted a resolution considered "most important" to service station operators.

The delegates voted to support the bill 479-S which seeks to outlaw "trade stamps" in connection with the sale of petroleum products.

Other resolutions favored provided for the elimination of "roadside gasoline" and the establishment of a "gasoline price index" to be determined by the Wisconsin State Fair Trade Commission.

State Park, Recreation Groups Okay Merger

Mail Vote by Members Shows 90 Per Cent Approve Plan; Joint Board Meeting Set

Members of the Wisconsin Park and Recreation Society and the Wisconsin Recreation Association have voted to merge the two organizations into a single group to be called the Wisconsin Park and Recreation Association.

A mail ballot vote of the approximately 250 members of each organization was taken during June and recent tabulation by the two boards resulted in about a 90 per cent vote for the merger. Presidents of the two groups, Dr. Robert Sternloff, WPRS, Kenosha, and Charles Drayna, WRA, Oshkosh, have announced a joint board meeting to be held in Milwaukee July 30. Alice K. Hucks, Appleton, is publicity chairman for the WPRS and a member of its board.

At the July meeting the two boards will discuss the mechanics of the merger and the scheduling of a joint constitutional convention to ratify the new articles of organization and by-laws and to elect officers. If this convention is held in the fall, the new officials will take office on Jan. 1, 1966.

First Move
The first move toward consolidation was made in 1960. In 1963 a joint committee met to make a comparative study of the operating instruments of each group. In March 1964, the annual meeting of the WPRS voted in favor of proceeding with further merger negotiations and in November, 1964, the WRA annual meeting also voted favorably. The joint committee in U.S. District Court; the other then drafted a comparative in a state court.

Need a part?

Replacing part of a car is a job. But it's even more difficult when you need a part and can't get it.

If you own a Volkswagen, you'll know how hard it is to find a part. You'll know how hard it is to find a part. You'll know how hard it is to find a part.

When cars change drastically every year, the dealer's job is to keep every part for every year in stock.

But the VW doesn't change drastically every year, so Volkswagen dealers don't have nearly the problem.

So far as we're concerned, a hood is a hood and a door is a door.

We can replace a part in 90 minutes for a rear fender for $21.00, plus a part.

Above all, we can promise that you'll be able to get any part you need for any year Volkswagen you own.

Not so long ago, there were people who wouldn't have any part of a VW at all. Now they get all they want.

How to Buy a Crestwood Home With Less Than $100 Cash

1. USE THE COUPON ABOVE TO SEND FOR A FREE BROCHURE. There's nothing like being forewarned with a little basic information about the Crestwood — floor plan, room sizes, designs available, things like that. It can help you out of the puzzled stage and give you a solid starting point from which to get into your own home.
2. CALL YOUR E&R REPRESENTATIVE REALTOR for any information you don't clearly understand. He'll be happy to answer any questions you may have with no obligation on your part, of course.
3. VISIT THE MODEL HOMES. Three Crestwood homes are now open for your inspection. One at 477 Johnson Drive, Greenville Park, Neenah. At West of Highway 41 and the Springfield School. Another at 1629 W. North Avenue, Oshkosh and at another in Arcade Acres, Ripon. See for yourself how much home for the money E&R gives you.
4. HAVE YOUR WIFE CAREFULLY INSPECT THE KITCHEN AND BATH. She'll especially like the working arrangement in the kitchen with corner sink and new Cherrubelle cabinets, room for festive dining and extra convenience. You'll both appreciate the advantages of the double entry bath with direct access from both the back door and hall.
5. ASK THE MAN FROM E&R FOR NAMES OF HOMEOWNERS. Over 650 families in this area have built E&R homes. You'll probably recognize a neighbor or fellow worker who owns an E&R home.
6. THOROUGHLY INVESTIGATE THE DETAILS of buying a new Crestwood home. Basic price of $11,600 plus of includes complete 3 bedroom Crestwood ranch plan, full poured concrete basement, custom siding, custom construction, vinyl or tiled floors, fireproof insulation, furniture finish cabinets, natural gas heating and hot water, texture, fresh walls and ceiling with 2 year warranty, full year service, porch, service, walk and driveway, fine grade entire lot 100 Amps electrical service with 220 range outlet, and no closing costs.

Light Is Resumed On Butter Question

Compromise Plan Would Legalize Sale of Lower Butterfat Product

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
MADISON — A new phase in the age-old legislative quarrel over the state policy of protecting butter producers from competition of lower cost margarine is about to begin at the Wisconsin College of Agriculture.

Traditionally state law has defined butter as containing 80 per cent butterfat by volume. The new proposal is to legalize a 40 per cent fat dairy spread, without proposing to use the identity of butter, according to the champions of the change.

Backers of the measure authorize the sale in Wisconsin stores of the lower grade butter product are hopeful about success on the basis of a long series of narrowly lost moves to break down the anti-margarine embargo. To the extent that country recently, and has had butter has been losing its effect in reducing the market to the lower cost, popular consumption of butter, margarine, the new butter supporters of the change in spread will be a gain for the butter definition law argue. dairy farmer in recovering the market for butterfat, they as-

Meanwhile, the foes of the anti-margarine laws have virtually given up hope of eliminating the standard requirement or softening them in the future. The new legislation would not affect the standard requirement for butter as such, in current session of the legislature. Although the assembly claim of Wisconsin dairymen bills have failed by one and two thirds, the Wisconsin farm state vote margins, indicating a substantial change of legislative attitude from earlier times, the lines are apparently fixed for the session. In the senate the rural-oriented members remain in control and similar bills have been bottled up securely in the drive to legitimate without a serious chance of roll call votes on the floor.

First scuffings in the Assembly this week on the low fat butter spread proposal were not a representative, according to the Assembly bill to legalize the University of Wisconsin invention lists 48 authors. Office to Serve Valley Vehicle Owners Urged

Area Congressmen Propose Green Bay Registration Branch

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
MADISON — Establishment of a branch registration office for the state motor vehicle department in Green Bay for the convenience of thousands of Fox River Valley motorists and truckers has been proposed in the legislature by a group of northeastern Wisconsin representatives.

The department in a fiscal memorandum says it could operate such a branch for about $60,000 a year in addition to the present expenditure for the driver testing station there which is open five days a week.

Whether the legislation can be enacted, its authors admit privately, is uncertain. There is pending a proposal before the legislative finance committee to eliminate the long-standing Milwaukee branch vehicle registration office. The operation of the special Milwaukee service evidently inspired the proposal for a similar convenience for vehicle owners in the Fox Valley.

With a Green Bay office, residents there and in near by communities could get across-the-counter service in vehicle registrations and fee payments, as against the mailed communications to the state capitol now required.

Another branch office at LaCrosse has been financed for many years by the county government there.

The measure provides that the department make such rules as are necessary to authorize the Green Bay branch "to perform as many functions of the department as possible, thereby serving the people of Green Bay and surrounding areas more efficiently and effectively." The plan would take effect next January 1. Authors of the bill are Assemblymen Vanderperren, Kafka and Quinn of Brown County; Sens Robert Warren and Reuben LaFave, representing portions of Brown County; and Assemblymen Bolle and Kaufman of Manitowoc County, L. H. Johnson of Door County, Struening of Calumet County and McDougal of Oconto County.

Nagel reported a screen had been torn and pry marks were evident on the door, but entry was not gained.

U.N. Contribution Planned for Refugee Camp in Tanzania

NAIROBI, Kenya (AP) — The United Nations plans to contribute $210,000 this year to the operation of a camp in Tanzania in which refugees from Portuguese Mozambique are reported getting an introduction to military training, a U.N. spokesman said today.

G. De Bosch Kemper, local representative of the U.N. High Commission for Refugees, said that Mozambique Africans paraded with wooden rifles and dummy hand grenades when he recently visited the camp at Rutamba, near Tanzania's southern frontier with the Portuguese territory.

De Bosch Kemper said he was sure the Rutamba Camp was not a base for FRELIMO, the anti-Portuguese Mozambique Liberation Movement.

"If it was a military camp we would not move in," he declared.

Unbelievable Amity Shown In House -- For Little While

Texan's Concern for GOP Minority Becomes Chiding

WASHINGTON (AP) — For a of federal employees to make little while, the interparty amity they buy dinner tickets. that was being displayed in the "That's all a mistake," Pat-House was almost unbelievable. man said. "Anyway, we don't Rep. Wright Patman, D-Tex., have to break into safes to get certainly not one of the least the records of what happened." partisan Democrats, looked That remark, which just across the aisle Thursday and about buried interparty amity, told Republicans: "I want to help you get out of the condition of a permanent minority. This country grew great because it had two competing parties."

Patman was urging Republicans to vote for a resolution to continue temporarily the Area Redevelopment Administration while Congress worked on new economic development legislation backed by President Johnson.

Let Others Reply

Patman let others reply to Republican charges of inefficiency, exaggeration, maladministration and competition with private enterprise in the program to help build new businesses in depressed areas.

Instead, he delivered a lecture on the political history of the country since 1932, emphasizing that "your party has controlled congress only 4 years out of the last 36."

Patman said in sympathetic tones this was because Republicans were so intent on voting against legislation like the development program, "and I would like to see more than 15 or so of you vote with us."

Tried to Cut In

The House Republican Leader, Rep. Gerald R. Ford of Michigan, was on his feet during much of Patman's lecture, trying to break in.

When Patman finally yielded, Ford said, "I am grateful for the solicitude the gentleman has for the Republican party. For a person coming from a one-party state, it is easy to understand."

With the interparty amity level falling visibly, Ford went on to say, "I wish the Republican party could put on a dinner like the one our friends across the aisle are having tonight, with 8,000 people paying $100 each. We don't have that kind of support."

He referred to a big Democratic fund-raising dinner in Washington Thursday night.

A Few Fat Cats

Patman replied blandly the Republicans don't need 8,000 dinners — just a few fat cats you can call on.

Groans came from the Republican side and remarks about the alleged twisting of the arms.

Viet Cong Has Executed U.S. Sergeant

Maine, was missing after the same action.

The Hanoi broadcast said the commander of Viet Cong forces in South Viet Nam announced Bennett's execution at a news conference Thursday.

Hanoi did not say where the execution took place.

Many Crimes

It quoted the Viet Cong as saying "The punishment of Harold George Bennett, an American aggressor who had committed many crimes against the South Vietnamese people, serves to warn the U.S. aggressors and their henchmen who have committed acts of utmost barbarity in killing prisoners of war that the murderers must pay for their blood debts."

"The fascist acts of utmost barbarity taken by the U.S. aggressors and their henchmen must be duly punished. The crimes of the bloodthirsty devils are intolerable."

Hanoi said that "in defiance of severe warnings" by the Viet Cong, the U.S. and South Vietnamese governments "have arrogantly shot numerous liberation (Viet Cong) fighters and other patriots in South Viet Nam who fell into their hands."

Prisoners' Fates

The broadcast said that "the life of U.S. prisoners of war, who are in the hands of the liberation armed forces (Viet Cong) or will be captured by them, is decided by the U.S. aggressors themselves."

It added that "all the traitors, such as (chief of state) Nguyen Van Thieu, (premier) Nguyen Cao Ky, and Nguyen Chanh Thi, who have massacred Vietnamese patriots on orders from the U.S. aggressors will also have to pay their blood debts."

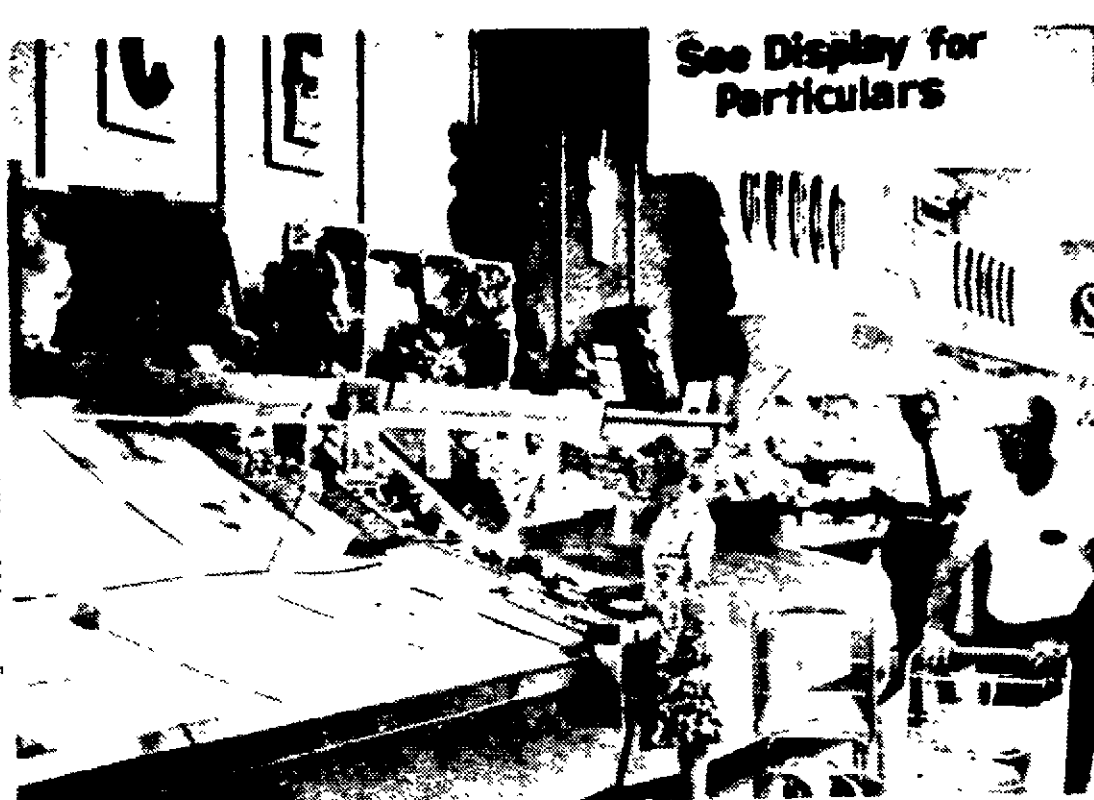

The broadcast said Bennett was executed in reprisal for the deaths of Viet Cong "patriots" Nguyen Van Troi, De Dau, Tran Van Dang and others.

Public Executions

Although Saigon authorities have put hundreds of terrorists to death in recent years, the three named by Hanoi and Le Van Khuyen are the only four whose executions have been carried out publicly or officially announced.

Tran Van Dang, 25, died before a firing squad in Saigon Tuesday for trying to blow up an American billet in a Saigon suburb in March.

Nguyen Van Troi, 19, was shot last October for trying to plant a bomb under a bridge over which U.S. Defense Secretary

Pilot Lands Burning Plane At Kenosha

KENOSHA (AP) — "My wife said it was one of the softest landings I ever made," smiled a Milwaukee pilot after guiding a burning plane to a blind-emergency landing that saved the lives of four people.

The single-engine plane, its cabin clouded with smoke, was landed safely on a school playground by Frank Hessler, 35, a professional engineer, after it erupted in flames 2,000 feet above the city Thursday night.

"I couldn't see anything during the final stages of the descent," said Hessler.

The rented plane, involved in a fire, rolled to a gentle stop on the playground as the four leaped out. Police Sgt. Joe Hebbior said, "He did a tremendous job of landing the plane. Otherwise, all of them would have been killed."

an American platoon as it entered a jungle clearing. A crewman aboard a medical evacuation helicopter was hit by groundfire as the craft tried to land and pick up the wounded paratrooper.

The paratrooper failed to flush out any guerrilla fighters but they picked up 30 persons as possible Viet Cong suspects. They also burned down huts in what appeared to be a Red staging area and destroyed a cache of about 3½ tons of rice packed in new bags with U.S. markings.

COMSAT Readies For Commercial Service June 28

Overseas Bound

At Camp Pendleton, a sprawling 20,000-man base, a spokesman said the Marines on the plane were part of a staging battalion that processes individual Marines from throughout the country for shipment to various overseas units.

They had been processed through Pendleton within the last two or three weeks and were brought to El Toro by bus Thursday.

Most of them were enlisted men, the spokesman said, although there were a few officers.

Fourteen hundred others in the staging battalion at Pendleton were ordered to wire or telephone their next of kin, to assure them of their safety.

The spokesman said it probably would take all day and perhaps part of tonight to notify next of kin of the victims.

"This 89th Congress will leap into history as the most effective and the most rewarding Congress in the history of our nation," Johnson told some 2,500 Democrats crowded into a hotel ballroom Thursday night.

Then he moved on to the Washington Armory, where well over 6,000 diners were jammed in — at $100 a plate — to eat charcoal broiled heart of filetmignon and hear some political talk.

And they paid plenty Bailey told reporters the dinner netted some $650,000 for Democratic congressional campaign war chests.

"I come here tonight not to bury the Congress, but to praise it," Johnson said at the Washington Hilton Hotel. "I come not to purge its selection, but to urge its re-election."

At the armory, he offered this view: "Congress is moved by abiding convictions, deep within the heart and soul of this nation, to stand up before the world to declare the will of this nation to resist aggression, defend freedom, honor our treaties and above all, work without ceasing anywhere, anytime for the peace of mankind."

While Johnson spoke at the hotel, Humphrey did the talking at the cavernous, gaily decorated armory. Then they swapped rostrums.

The President said the record Congress is writing is a victory not of party, but of the people. He ticked off House and Senate action, on the floor and in committee, on 17 bills in one day. Recalling his own days as Senate majority leader, Johnson said "I just wonder if I wasn't in the kindergarten class."

Explosion Rips Shopping Center

MELROSE, Mass. (AP) — A powerful explosion tore apart the middle of a new Main Street shopping center early today, touched off fire that destroyed most of the rest of it and blew out windows in homes within a half-mile radius.

Police said they received no reports of injuries but the Melrose-Wakefield Hospital was on emergency alert during the first few hours after the blast.

Missing in Action

A U.S. paratrooper was listed as missing in action in the "D" zone jungle 25 miles north of Saigon where a 600-man paratroop battalion hunted the Viet Cong Thursday.

American officers said it was not determined whether the missing paratrooper had been captured by guerrillas dug in throughout the area or had strayed from his outfit.

In extra-special touches of glamor, there isn't a compact that can stack up to the American.

But you're entitled to a lot more than dazzle. So we give the American the good solid build, the quality feel, the beauty that is character-deep. Other compacts just don't have Double-Safety Brakes, Deep-Dip Rustproofing and the like.

"On Rambler, they're standard. America's lowest price for two door sedan, four-door sedan, wagon, convertible, and hardtop with reclining bucket seats. That's based on direct comparison of manufacturers' suggested retail prices. See your Rambler dealer now.

EXTRA! EXCISE TAX As proposed, the auto excise tax cut would be retroactive to May 15th. This means you can get your Rambler now, with a whopping trade-in allowance, and, if the tax cut is passed as proposed, you can get a prompt check from American Motors for the amount of the retroactive tax cut.
